A previous rebuild had removed the cone tuning from the treble pipes and replaced with tuning slides and lowered the pressure of the instrument by removing weight from the top of the reservoir. During our restoration we provided new tuning slides and returned the wind to 3" which returned the tuning to A=435. A new blower replaced a blower of unknown origin and the façade was stripped and repainted with a gold lacquer finish. The action, keyboards, and pipework were all removed, refurbished, cleaned, and reinstalled.
